

New Housing Developments in Moab

The cost of housing in Moab is too high; most people cannot afford to buy a house because the wages are too low here; even rent is too high.

A modest income used to be sufficient to enjoy the quality of life we chose; modest homes/yards are being replaced by expensive homes, landscaped yards, and high taxes.

An example of the housing development and general building boom going on in Moab. Much of what was farmland is being carved up and developed at an increasingly rapid pace, seemingly, without any planning or zoning restrictions.
